Markus och Jesper var lysande. Särskilt då man hade knappt med tid att förbereda. Hoppas att de fortsätter undervisa och utvecklar kursen än mer.

Easily one of if not the best course so far on the entire masters program. For me at least what made the course so great is that it felt like you learnt things that will actually be useful for when you start to work. While the assignments took a lot of time I feel that you learnt a lot from them and I wish more courses would not shy away from the programing and math which this course really emphasized. Look at any job advertisement for an economics job these are some of the skills which are always mentioned so it was nice to get the chance to practice these skills a little.
